

Due to the global context derived from the COVID-19 pandemic, AAHD invites the Digital Humanities community to participate in #NoviembreHD, a completely online and free event that will take place every Thursday in November 2020, through different synchronous and asynchronous activities.

Please, participate sending posters, video / demos, and proposals for edit-a-thons, meetings, and panels. All submissions must be sent before October 15th (Envíos tab: <https://www.aacademica.org/noviembrehd/tabs/submissions>). Submissions will be evaluated on a rolling basis.

The accepted posters and video / demo proposals will be published on Monday, November 2nd, and will be discussed in Twitter on the dates proposed below.

#NovemberHD activities:

Thursday, November 5th: Videoconferences and online meetings. Workshops.

Thursday, November 12th: Posters in Twitter.

Thursday, November 19th: Videos and demos in Twitter. Online meetings.

Thursday, November 26th: AAHD online panels and open call panels. Edit-a-thons.

The languages of the event will be Spanish, Portuguese and English, although we would love to receive proposals on Digital Humanities projects related to any language or culture, especially the marginalized ones.

How to participate:

1) Send a Poster on a topic, project, group, research work on Digital Humanities. Posters will be sent in PDF format (up to 10MB). On Thursday, November 12th we will chat with the authors in Twitter!

2) Send Video / demo about a topic, project, group, research work on Digital Humanities. Videos must be uploaded to a platform or website. The link will be included in the abstract and file. On Thursday, November 19th we will chat with the authors on Twitter!

We also invite proposals for panels, workshops, edit-a-thons or meetings. AAHD will support with videoconference rooms, although, for organizational and budget reasons, we encourage participants to include in their proposals a link to a videoconference room.

Join #NoviembreHD! All proposals will be invited to Conference Proceedings. We will give more information and scheduled activities in September!
